CITY TO INSTALL 100 NEW STREET MARKERS

City workers next week will start installation of 100 new easy-to-read street markers in the downtown Torrance area, it was announced yesterday by City Manager George W. Stevens.

Designed for day or night legibility, the signs will be posted on street light standards. Baked-enamel process. They cost 11 feet up. Black letters, four inches high and on a white background tell the street name; mounted below is a plate bearing the block number. Durability is insured, City Manager Stephens claimed, in that the markers are enhanced by a

* POSTED . . . City employees last week posted the first of 100 street markers they will place in the downtown Torrance business district. Designed for "see-ability," the signs will be mounted on light standards, 11 feet off the ground. They cost the city $4 apiece.

El Camino College May Now Accept Immigrant Students

President Forrest G. Murdock announced today that El Camino College has been notified that it is accredited as an institution qualified to educate non-quota immigrant students. This announcement was made by the United States Attorney General, Department of Immigration and Naturalization Service, Washington, D.C. The United States Department of Justice which handles certification of these colleges stated that El Camino College will appear upon the accepted list of colleges as of September, 1949.

According to President Murdock, students who have graduated from high schools in foreign countries have already reached a considerable number. Seventeen countries and territories of the United States include students of Canada, China, Denmark, Egypt, England, France, Ireland, Italy, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands.

As a further indication of the cosmopolitan nature of the El Camino College district, President Murdock indicated that there are graduates from 41 of our 48 states.

City to Continue Using County as Health Agency

The city of Torrance is one of 15 cities which will use the services of the Los Angeles County Health Department during the current fiscal year under an agreement recommended last Friday by Dr. Roy O. Gilbert, head of that county department.

The agreement calls for a minimum monthly charge of $1 plus $1.68 per visit made.

'Depression Is Mental' Says Exec

At a dinner meeting at Palos Verdes Country Club, 100 members and guests of the Torrance Industrial Management Club heard talks in an open forum on the subject for the meeting, "How Can We Prevent a Depression?"

John Despoid, C.I.O. Steel Workers Union, declared that all employers should have full employment as their target. He said there were no depressions when there was employment. He further stated the United States now has a mixed economy—large public enterprise make private business boom and that large projects of constructive nature should replace some of the money spent in militarism. John DeRiter, president of General Metals Corporation and speaker for management on the subject stated that depressions are psychological to the American public. His viewpoint was that there is no shortage of consumer buying power, but for psychological reasons the public won't buy today because they feel the price will be cheaper tomorrow. He expressed that the situation was not alarming and he would rather see a recession and leveling off at this time rather than a big depression at a later date. DeRiter stated that depression being a psychological effect, the only sure way of preventing a depression would be by freezing of wages and a freeze in the price of everything. John D. Spalding, Works Manager of National Supply Company served as moderator for the forum. W. R. Patterson, president of the Industrial Management Club, presided at the meeting. A. C.

Turner, chairman of the nominating committee repeated the nomination for the election of officers of the club to be held the next regular meeting in August.
